

My future profession

Platunov Mark

- My future profession will be to work with children, namely to teach them a game like volleyball. This is very responsible, because my task will not only teach children the basics and improve their skills. But also instill a love for this sport and respect for my activities

- I consider my profession to be very important, since training children from scratch is quite difficult and not all future coaches succeed in achieving success in this area and they leave to engage in other activities, and volleyball for them becomes only a hobby

- At the moment, I have no ideals. I would admire the coaches, because they do not need to be proud and equal, they need to draw knowledge as a teacher and apply their experience to their children, whom you train and see their progress, their victories and defeats
