

What is the difference between infinitive

and

-ing form?

The -ing form is used:

1. As a noun in the function of the subject.

Exercising is a good for your health.

The -ing form is used:

2. After the verbs:

admit

fancy prevent appreciate go (for activities)

quit

avoid imagine save consider mind

suggest continue miss deny practise

You should avoid eating junk food.

The -ing form is used:

3. After the verbs:

love

like

enjoy

prefer dislike hate

to express general preference.

Jane prefers living alone.

Jack enjoys playing his guitar.

The -ing form is used:

4. After expressions such as:

be busy

there's no point (in)

it's no use

can't stand

it's no good

have difficulty (in)

it's (not) worth

what's the use of

can't help

I have difficulty (in) understanding what he says.

The -ing form is used:

4. After the verbs: spend waste lose (time, money)

He spends hours reading every day.

The -ing form is used:

5. After the preposition to with verbs and expressions such as:

look forward to be used to

in addition to object to prefer (doing sth to sth else)

She prefers walking to driving to work.

The -ing form is used:

6. After other prepositions.

I was thinking of calling John.

He apologised for being late.

The -ing form is used:

7. After the verbs:

watch

listen to notice

feel

see hear

I saw Pam waiting for the bus.
(I only saw part of the action.)

BUT we use the infinitive without to with hear, listen to, notice, see, watch and feel to describe a completed action.

I didn't see Pam get on the bus. (The action was completed.)

Note: be/get used to + -ing form

I'm used to working very hard. BUT I used to work very hard. (I don't any more.)

The to-infinitive is used:

1. To express purpose.

She went to the supermarket to buy some cheese.

The to-infinitive is used:

2. After certain verbs that refer to the future:

agree promise

appear refuse decide want expect hope

plan

I want you to come.

I expect him to be here.

The to-infinitive is used:

3. After

The to-infinitive is used:

8. After verbs and expressions such as ask decide explain

find out

learn

want

want to know

when they are followed by a question word.

She asked me when to get the tickets.

The to-infinitive is used:

9. In the expressions

To tell you the truth

To be honest

To sum up

To begin with

Note: If two to-infinitives are linked by and/or, the to of the second infinitive is omitted.

I would love to go to Paris and see the museums.

To sum up, the government needs to take measures to deal with unemployment more effectively.

The to-infinitive is used:

10. After certain nouns.

It's my honour to take part in this festival.

11. With so + adjectives + as.

Would you be so kind as to help me with the door?

The to-infinitive is used:

12. With 'only' expressing an unsatisfactory result.

The to-infinitive is used:

14. Dare expressing "having the courage to do something" is used with an infinitive with or without to.

I don't dare (to) tell him the truth.

Dare expressing a threat, a warning or anger, is used with an infinitive without to.

Don't you dare talk to me like that.

Dare expressing a challenge is used with a to-infinitive.

I dare you to dive into the sea from the cliff.

The infinitive without to

(also called bare infinitive)

1. After Modal verbs.

Sally can speak
Portuguese fluently

2. After the verbs let, make, see, hear and feel.

They let him travel on his own.

The infinitive without to

BUT

1. We use to-infinitive after be made, be heard, be seen, etc (passive form).

He was seen to steal goods from the greengrocer's.

NOTE:

2. When see, hear and watch are followed by an -ing form, there is no change in the passive.

I heard her crying in her room.

She was heard crying in her room.

The infinitive without to

3. After had better and would rather.
