«Amazing Caucasus»

Student 6 "B" class school №6 Shurygin Daniel

Director: Alexandra Kolmykova

The Caucasus is an amazing and beautiful part of Russia. Here we have the unique nature and wonderful people.

The name of the great Russian poet M. Y. Lermontov became the inevitable part of the Caucasus. He devoted to the Caucasus many of his works and found his death.

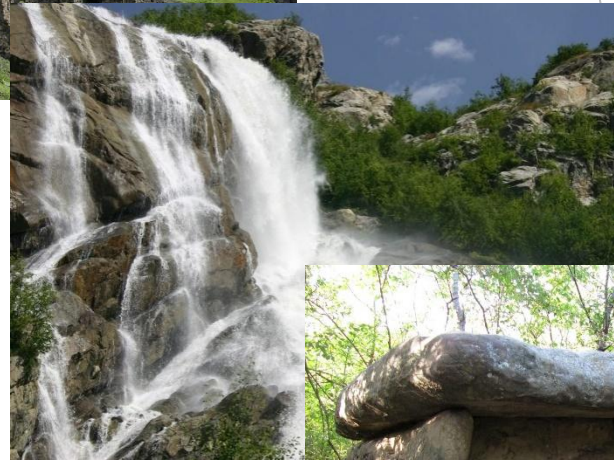

*Where merge Aragva and her twin,
Kura, and fast rush onward, in Times past, a lonely cloister stood;
By fields, a dense and o'ergrown wood
Encircled 'twas....A wayfarer,
Toiling uphill, will see what were
A gate and gateposts once and, too,
A church....To-day, no incense to
Its round dome coils, nor do a prayer
The humble monks chant, hoarse-voiced,
there.*

The peoples of the Caucasus are known for their beautiful songs and dances, national costumes and holidays bright.

The Caucasus is one of the most beautiful places on the planet. There is the Elbrus – highest peak of Europe, Gorges, mountain rivers and lakes. Travelers are advised to watch Arkhyz, Dombay, waterfalls Tobot, Sultan, Chegem, gorge Dzhyly-su, guard towers, dolmens.

*There are many peoples living in the Caucasus:
Kabardians, Chechens, Armenians, Dagestanis, Avars, Ossetians, and others. They speak different languages and have a rich culture.*

In the Caucasus people respect family and elders, they listen to their advice. Family in the Caucasus is large.
