Learning English

Learning English is very difficult and takes a long time, but it's worth it

Conversation with foreigners, watching films in original with subtitles will help to learn English

English in TV shows and films

---

Thanks to learning English, you will be able to watch TV shows and films in the original, without translation into your native language.

You will be able to hear the real emotions of the actors, their voices and experiences

English in entertainment

Many play computer games, including me, and in order to succeed, you need to act as a team, but often partners come across foreign ones, this raises the question:

how to communicate with them?

The answer is simple: you need to know English

Out of the homeland

Being abroad, without knowing English, you cannot even buy yourself an apple, let alone talk about communication

Thanks to not even the best English, you can make new friends in another country

Learn English and many troubles will pass you by!
