

Differences and similarities between England and Yakut villages

The English and Yakut villages have stoves that heat the house

In the Yakut villages of cowshed is located in the same area with the house. cows eat far from their place of residence

In England, the barns are located in a separate area from the house. cows do not go far from the place of stay and are constantly in the same area.

In England and Yakutia houses are low, all houses have 1-2 floors

Small courtyard

Large courtyard

There are no big shops and shopping centers in the villages terrible road conditions good paved roads in Yakutia wooden houses in England stone houses

in England and Yakutia
design houses from the inside is similar

