

Presentation Of Sofia Petrichenko.

If I come home after a long absence , I will turn my attention to the city of Izobilny, which is located next to my village.

- In this place, especially the fact that I came here very often, both on business and for entertainment . I also finished my second school here .

This is a small city, even a small one. Its population is also small

- Roads in this city are different, where bad, where good . But still, I saw more good roads. There are few tourists in this city , so I don't know how they come and go. You can get used to this place quickly, I think.

- Since this is a small city, there is not much that is interesting there . There are of course large shops, parks , squares , a large square, there are two stages where concerts take place.In General, there is a place to walk and have a good time.

- The type of housing people have here is completely normal . Probably the same as many other people living in other cities. And the architecture of these houses is also common . There are both apartment buildings and private houses .

- In the open air, you can gather in the city center , on the square, in the Park . You can sit on a bench in the shade, and in the warm season there are rides .There are various cafes where you can eat and relax. In General , we have places where you can have a good time.

- In their free time, people who live here can play sports , go for a walk , go to a movie, go to a cafe . Unfortunately, there is no theater here yet.

- People earn their living here working in various jobs, and it is also possible to do your own business , maybe even open your own company, if you want .

- There are several good schools in this city . But there are no higher educational institutions . There is only one institution where students can enroll on the basis of nine classes.

- For tourism, this city is too small , and besides, it is not very interesting , but if someone visits here, I would advise you to visit the city center, as this is the best place here.

- A newcomer to this city will not find anything strange, because it is ordinary, like many small cities in Russia.

- In this place, I really like the Park . I like to walk it with my friends . It's hard to say what I don't like about this city .

Thanks for your attention!
