

Countable and uncountable nouns

Countable nouns

Countable nouns are nouns we can COUNT.

Example: two apples, three oranges.

When there is only one, we use a or an in front of the noun.

Example: An apple - A sandwich

Uncountable nouns

Uncountable nouns are nouns we can't count.

Examples: SOUP - SUGAR - WATER - TEA

BUT WE CAN USE WORDS LIKE:

A bag of sugar

A cup of tea

A bottle of water

A bowl of soup

some

We use some with countable and uncountable nouns in affirmative sentences.

She's got some lemons. (countable noun)

There is some lemonade. (Uncountable)

Any

We use any with countable and uncountable nouns in negative sentences and questions.

There aren't any lemons.
Are there any lemons? (Countable)

We haven't got any lemonade.
Is there any lemonade? (uncountable)

How many...?

When we want to ask about the quantity of a countable noun, we use HOW MANY...?

Example How many bananas are there?

There are two.

How much?

When we want to ask about the quantity of uncountable nouns, we use HOW MUCH...?

Example How much coffee do you want?

Just a cup, please!
