This is my one-story dream house! I think it would be so nice to live in there. It looks cozy!

Let's go to the backyard!

the walkway is made of stones!

A close-up view of a garden path. The path is composed of large, flat, light-colored stones set in a grid pattern on a green lawn. The stones are irregular in shape and size, creating a natural, rustic look. The lawn is well-maintained and green. In the background, there are various plants, including tall green stalks and some yellow flowers.

two comfortable benches

In the center, there is a large, round, light-colored table. The patio is surrounded by a wooden fence and various plants, including a tall, thin plant in a pot. The overall atmosphere is cozy and inviting.
