Very oor quality images such as this can be 'vectorised' into a very simple style such as those on the last page (with no detail on face etc)

Images such as these could be made 'flatter' by adding pen lines to hair, removing shadow and detail from face and hands. Alternatively, just smoothing the edges of the images and maybe the simple addition of an outline could improve it?

After – mood board (not all images need to be treated this way but especially poor quality ones could be
