

Lory

الوعب

- ✓ The animal is easy to remember, once seeing his big eyes, surrounded by dark spots and separated by a yellowish stripe.
- ✓ Nature has endowed him with a good night vision thanks to the reflective substance tapetum, allowing you to navigate in the dark.
- ✓ The eyes may have caused the corresponding name "Loeris", in the translation from the Dutch language - "clown".

Wow!!!

- ✓ Lemur lory - animal of night. Night is the time of hunting, and the animal falls asleep only after the up sun.
- ✓ Bright light to them is contraindicated, from dazzling rays they can go blind and die. Semi-darkness is a comfortable habitat.
- ✓ They sleep with fur globules on the trees, they hold their feet by their branches and hide their heads at their feet. A convenient place for resting a small animal can be found in a hollow or for a bough

It's very beautiful!!!

- Lory move slowly, carefully, clutching all the branches of the branches from below. At the danger they freeze and can stay for a long time without stirring a single leaf until the threat from some predatory nocturnal bird passes by. The hearing of the animals is excellent.

Mi-mi-mi

Thank you for attention
