

GARDENS ENGLAND

FOGGY ALBION

❖Foggy Albion - the perfect place to get acquainted with modern trends in the development of landscape design. More than 85% of the UK population - the townspeople, and they are passionate gardeners. On the research in this area millions of pounds are spent annually sterling, and the British have made huge strides in this area.

HAMPTON COURT GARDENS

- ❖ It was a favorite place of Henry VIII of, located in Richmond-upon-Thames, in Greater London. This place is known as one of the most beautiful gardens in the world: Tudor style pattern - "the English version of Versailles.«
- ❖ Where you can admire the ancient architecture, saved to our times and carefully protected.
- ❖ Exotic trees and flowers were planted itself Elizabeth the First, the grape vine growing over 250 years and brings a crop of 900 kg!

GARDENS WEASLEY

- ❖ Gardens Wisley - a mecca for all gardeners the world. Initially Garden in Wisley is an experimental forest garden. Now in its territory are located the best gardens that have received recognition at trade shows in Chelsea. Weasley, not without reason, consider the school of landscape art UK.
- ❖ rare spotted orchid, colorful crocuses are combined with a number of model gardens, a magnificent rose garden and a garden rockery. On the territory of 121 hectares located a number of very different gardens and interconnected ponds.
- ❖ The garden was broken in 1878, JF Wilson, a successful businessman and an enthusiastic gardener. His landing partially preserved and now is the so-called "wild garden" with an interesting collection of trees, shrubs and perennials, including bulbs amazing.

GARDENS SISINHEST

❖ Sisinhest Gardens in Kent were laid in 1930 by the English writer Vita Sackville-West and her husband Harold Nicholson. Since it is one of the most visited ❖ Especially known for "White Garden", which are expressed only the flowers and shrubs in white.

❖ Rose Garden is an ancient species of shrub roses of various colors and shapes. Walk along the ancient yew estate gives them a special charm.

HEVER CASTLE GARDENS

❖ Hever Castle - the castle of the XIV century, Childhood Anne Boleyn, wife of Henry VIII. Here you will find everyday objects and original documents Tudor, a wonderful castle gardens will carry you in those days.

❖ There recreated "old English garden" with a yew maze and bizarre topiary. However, the Gardens dates back to the creation of a fully twentieth century.

KEW GARDENS

© Nigel Burkin

GARDENS HAM HOUSE

GARDENS KANNIZARO

THANK YOU FOR ATTENTION