Сияет солнце спозаранку,
Снег темным сделался, намок...
И, распеваячи веснянку,
Бежит веселый ручеек.
