A photograph of the Auschwitz concentration camp entrance. The central focus is a brick building with a prominent tower in the middle, which has a dark, grid-like structure on its upper part. A railway track leads directly from the foreground towards the central archway of the building. The sky is filled with heavy, grey clouds, creating a somber and overcast atmosphere. The ground is a mix of gravel and dirt, with some sparse grass. The overall tone is dark and historical.

A black and white photograph showing a vast room filled with numerous piles of shoes, likely in a concentration camp. The shoes are piled high, reaching up to the ceiling in some areas. A wooden crate is visible in the foreground, partially buried in the shoes. The room has white walls and a doorway in the background. The overall scene is one of overwhelming scale and tragedy.
