

PALACE OF PEACE AND HARMONY.

Palace of Peace and Reconciliation - one of the attractions of the capital.

Pyramid has become a symbol of unity of different religions, ethnicities and cultures, openness of the people and the state around the world.

The Palace of Peace and Accord, built in Astana, is a unique building made in the shape of a pyramid. It was erected in 2006 in the capital of Kazakhstan. The grand opening of the palace occurred on September 1, 2006.

The author of the project of the Palace of Peace and Reconciliation is a famous British architect
Norman Foster
Robert.

Pyramid Centre and religious toleration.

*Accommodates
a concert hall with 1500 seats.*

Palace of Peace and Accord in Astana
- a symbol of tolerance of religion in Kazakhstan.

Thank you for your attention.

