- Артемий лебедев (ководство ну и так по мелочам: иконка "Домой", растяжение сайта по ширине окна и т.д.)

Space Is The Place

Welcome to my Space Is The Place* home page. I have been interested in spaceflight all my life. Perhaps this resulted from my coming of age and developing an awareness of the larger world during the 1960's, when mankind made its first tentative steps beyond our protective Earth, decided that the Moon was the first goal, and BY GOLLY GOT THERE WITHIN THAT SAME DECADE! Pretty impressive for someone of my age in those years (i.e. 6 to 16), and proof to me that anything is possible. Mankind's destiny has to be in space.

- Ken R. Harman

"The dinosaurs went extinct because they didn't have a space program"

- Arthur C. Clarke, science/science fiction writer, visionary and author of "2001 - A Space Odyssey"

My Space Is The Place website consists of two main parts:

- My Visits to Space Centres which are outlined here on the home page and on the second page.
- My Models of Spacecraft and some of the history behind them, which is the main topic of the third, fourth, fifth, and sixth pages.

*Note - credit for the name of this website goes to the late jazz band leader, black prophet and native of the planet Saturn (so he claimed), Sun Ra, who titled a song, album and film "Space is the Place". (note this is an MP3 file, as are other audio files on this page,

This site is dedicated to the memory of my dear friend and fellow space enthusiast Butch Head 1952 - 2005, greatly missed member of the "Baikonour Boys".

Edgar Mitchell visits "the Shrine" - in June 2006 I was honoured to have Dr. Edgar Mitchell, Apollo 14 astronaut and sixth man to walk on the Moon, visit my home, and in particular the "Shrine" (click to go particular).

Then it is violently opposed.
