1) Journalists are storytellers. They write and report news stories about everything, from social issues and politics to sports and entertainment. A journalist presents information so folks can form opinions and make prudent decisions.

2) excellent communication and writing skills,
research skills,
self-confidence,
and the ability to make people feel relaxed,
the ability to absorb information quickly, the ability to write in an appropriate style, keyboard and IT skills.

3) 1.Mobile phone: How can you call yourself a fair dinkum freelance journalist if your contacts, your interviewees or your editors can not immediately call you?

2.A quality digital camera: If you intend taking your own photos to make extra money. The camera on your phone is handy but dedicated digital SLR will work with less light, take pictures faster and generally provide much better quality.

5) this job is very prestigious, because people always need a media
