Animal products

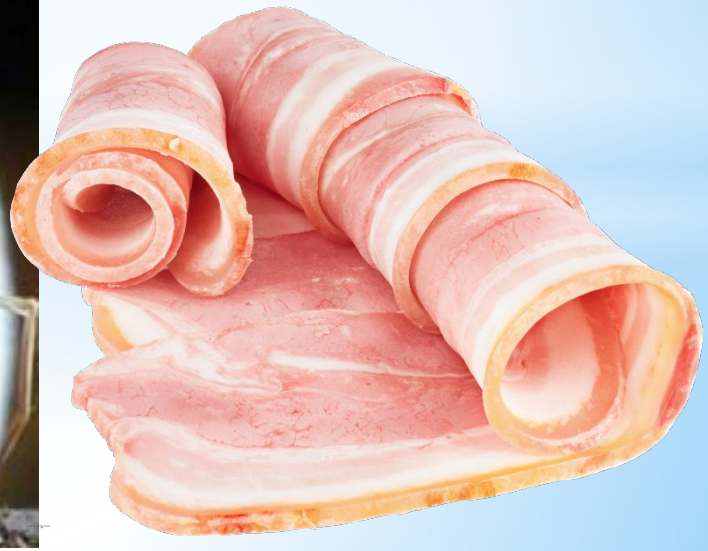
An animal product is any material derived from the body of an animal.

Meat industry - the largest branch of the food industry

Dairy industry

Sheep produce a wide variety of items that people use

Pork is the most widely consumed meat in the world. People eat many different pork products, such as bacon, sausage and pork chops.



Horse

Aviculture

Bees

Thank You for Your Attention!