

RÉPUBLIQUE FRANÇAISE.

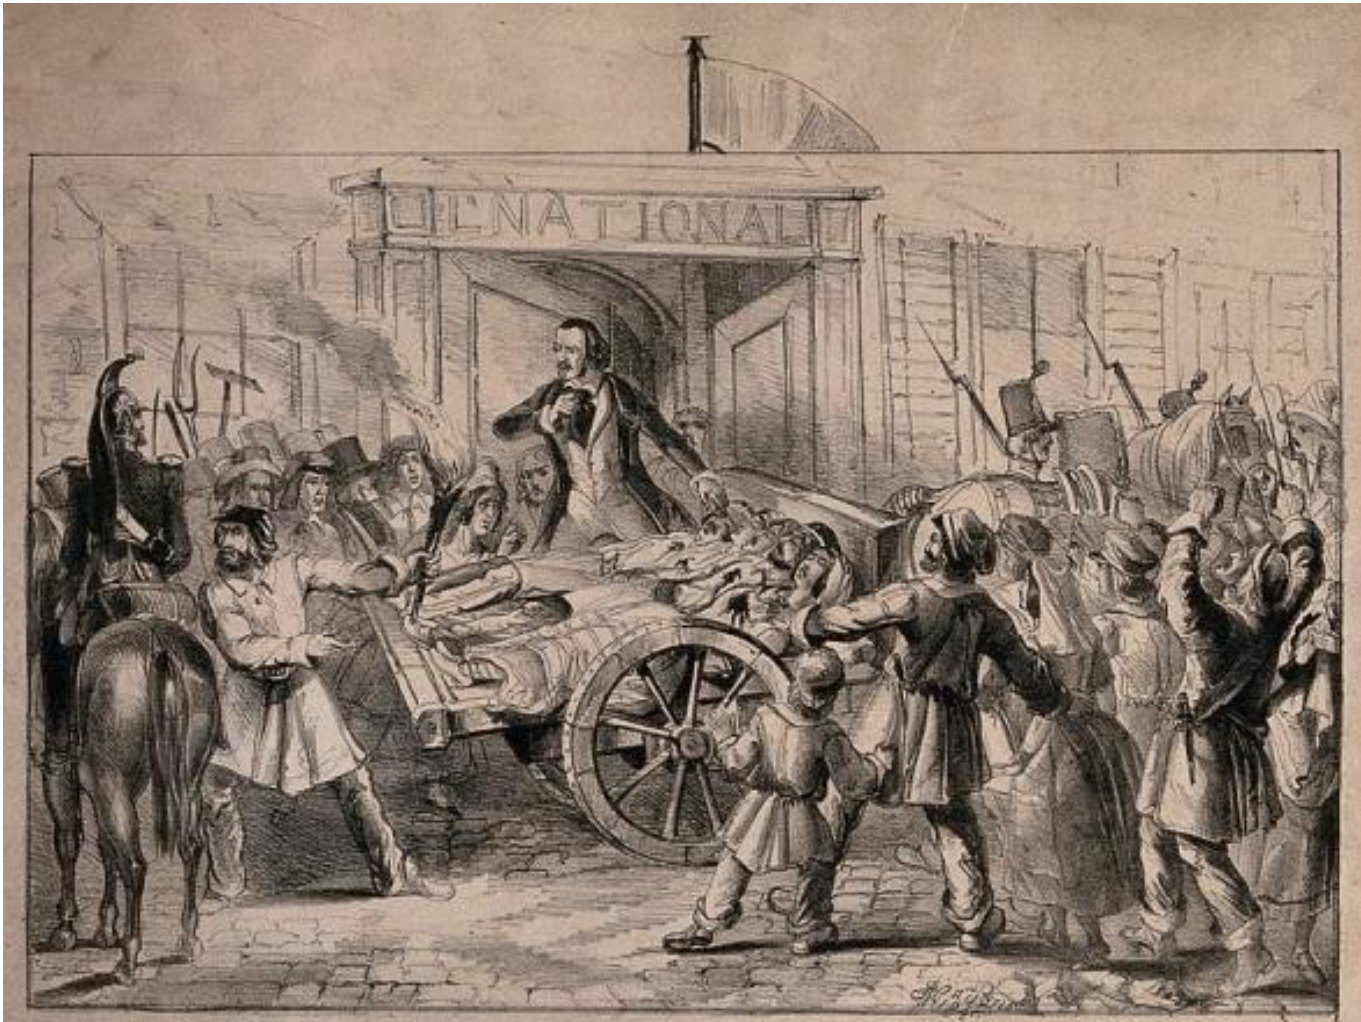

Combat du peuple parisien dans les journées des 22, 23 et 24
Février 1848.

Banquet du Château-Rouge (9 juillet 1847)

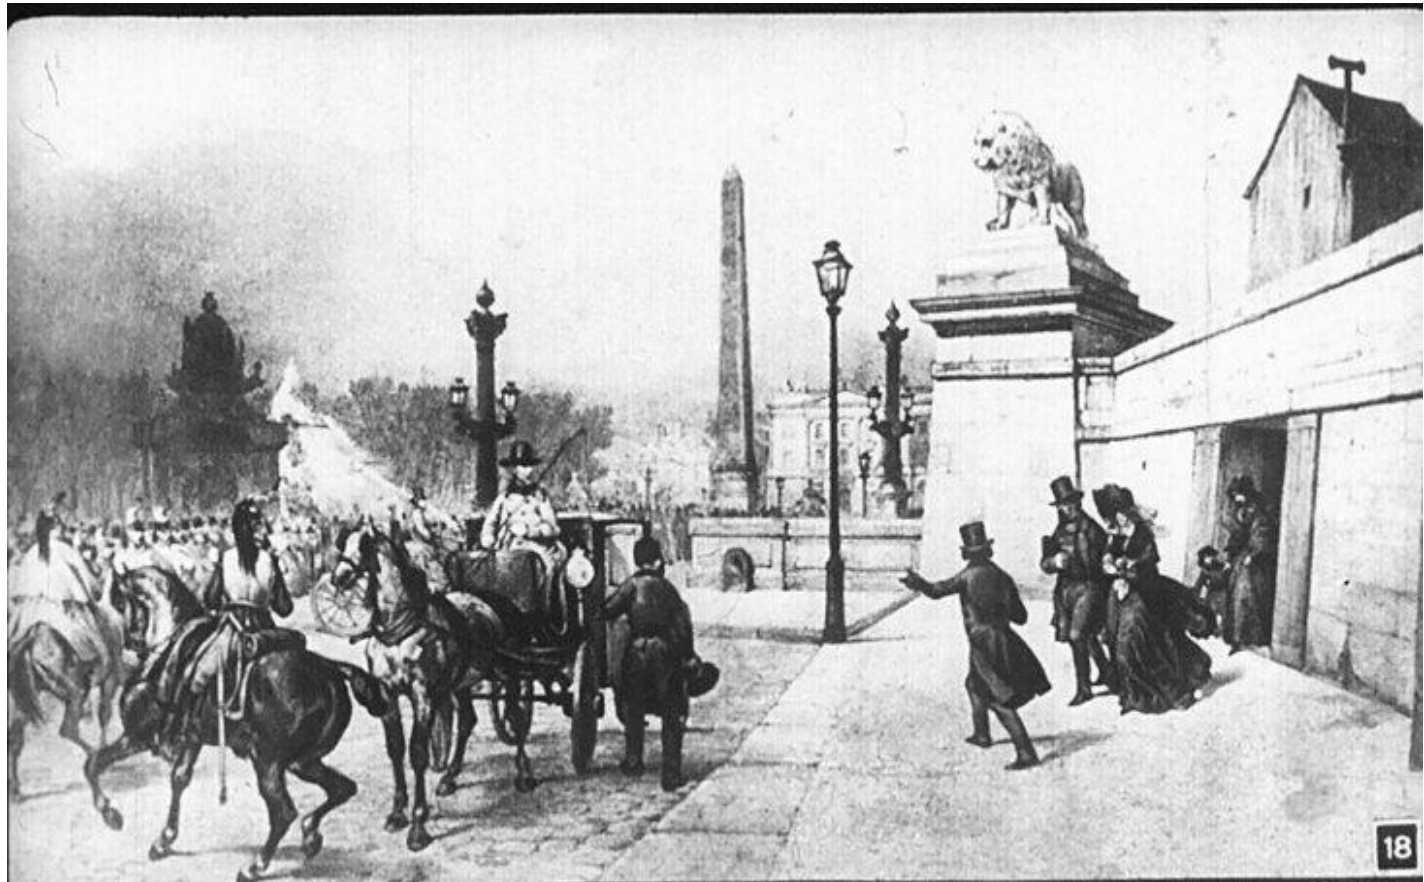

SCENE NEAR THE NATIONAL.

Time—Night.

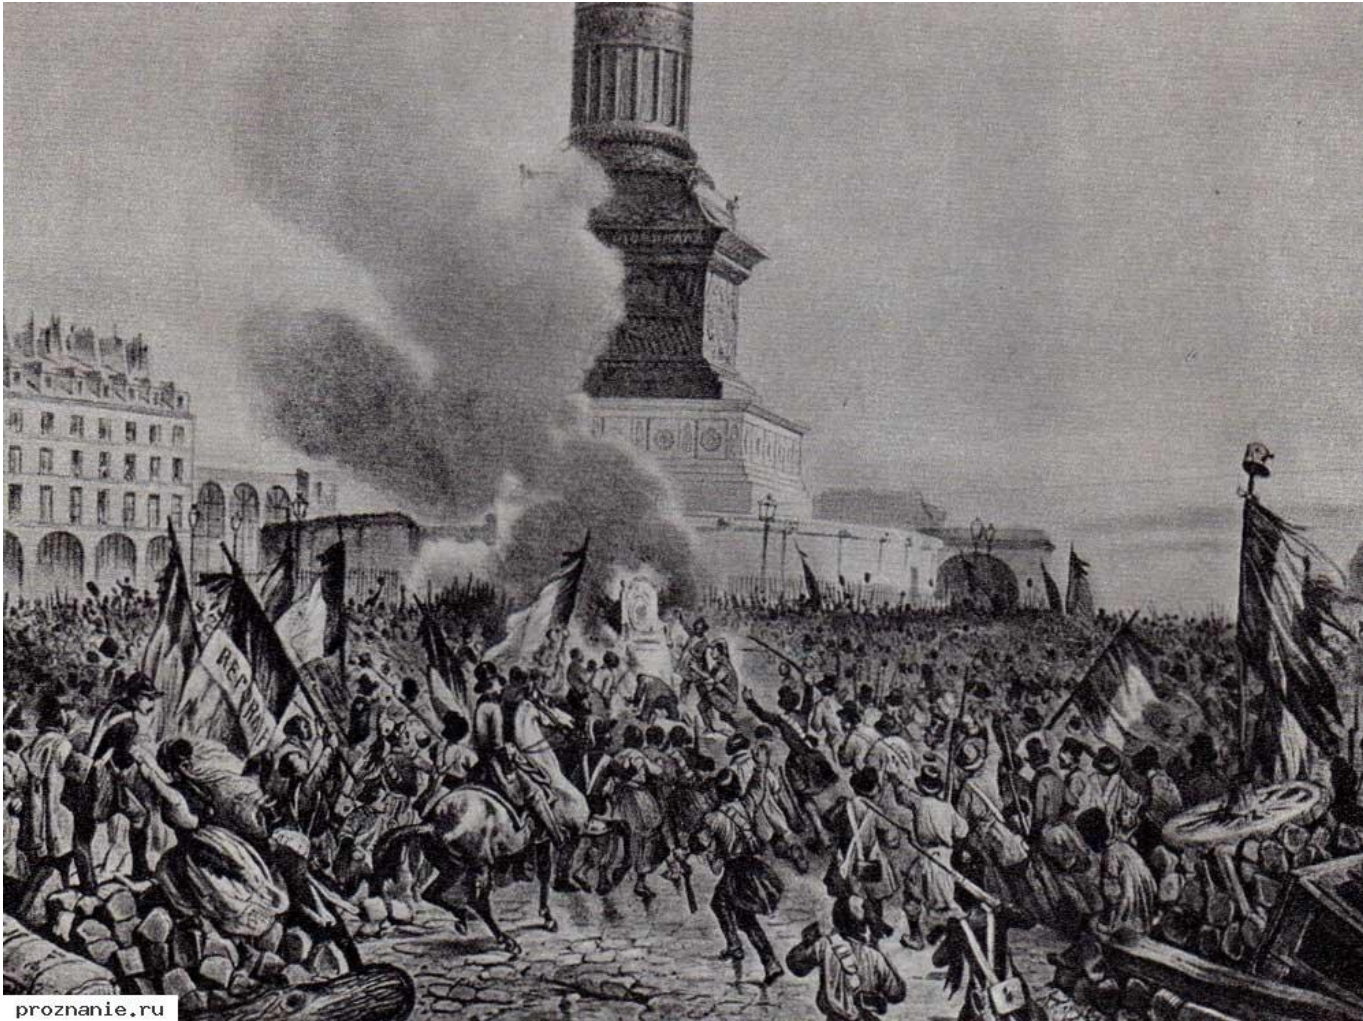

The bodies of those who had just been destroyed before the Hotel des Affaires Etrangères, were in a vast, unarranged pile, a dense mass of the Pygmæan-looking hordes, who stand in a successful line of march—'Mourir pour le pays!'—tripping and falling in the tangled tresses of their tresses, terrifically silent, dead for evermore.

Va te faire pendre ailleurs !
