Most of us meet with medical staff for health reasons.

If everything is clear with the doctor - it is a specialist who conducts the reception of the population in order to identify the cause of the disease, diagnose and prescribe treatment, then the nurse who is it?

It turns out that a nurse is a qualified assistant doctor who, under certain circumstances, provides patients with first aid.

What are the functions of a nurse men?

Even in the process of training nurses are taught to quickly and competently perform the following manipulations:

1. Apply bundles;
2. Do injections and bandages;
3. To measure the temperature and to prepare medicines;
4. Ensure the availability of sterile accessories that may be required by the doctor during treatment.

Specialization of the nurse can be different.

There are ward, operating, diet, school and social nurses and they all perform different manipulations.

What physical and moral qualities should a nurse men have?

The nurse, as well as the doctor — a profession humane and therefore to bring benefit in the field, it has to be guided first of all by love to people.

It is not superfluous here will be a tendency to deep sympathy and empathy. And, of course, I would like the nurse to be sociable, not only competent. Often, how well and accessible he will be able to explain to the patient his actions, how much he will be able to calm a person upset by the disease, depends on the successful outcome of treatment.

A good nurse needs to have such skills and qualities:

1. Clear hand-eye coordination.

Agree, it is not pleasant when the injection due to the fact that it was made by a trembling hand, becomes painful;

2. Balance.

Understanding and sympathetic health worker is much better than nervous and always ready to get irritated;

3. Observation.

Doctors can get tired too, and the nurse has to insure the senior companion that in case of an error from his party to be ready to interfere.

Like any employee associated with the service of people, the nurse must always be in good shape.

He can not afford to relax beyond measure or for a week to go on a spree and be ready at the first call to support the victims, which, by the way, in one day can go through his hands a lot.

Endurance, self— control and stress resistance are his main friends.

The dignity of the profession.

If we talk about the pros, it is first of all necessary to note the high demand in the labor market. Almost every specialist can count on a free place in his city.

Disadvantages of the profession.

However, there are disadvantages. In particular, low wages and lack of career growth. Even with all his desire to rise above the post of senior nurse simply will not work.
