TEXT A:

OPINION

Prices of commodities seem likely to continue rising across the board in the foreseeable future. In the current climate of rising inflation generally there remains little doubt that the impact on households' real wealth, not to mention their rapidly deteriorating mood, will be wholly unpleasant. In my view the government's reputation for economic competence is now in tatters.

TEXT B:

To make matters worse for the beleaguered minister, it now emerges that the tough new business regulations she is now promoting so forcefully were originally proposed not by her own government but by the opposition.

Surely that is an example of hypocrisy, is it not? It is little wonder that voters are increasingly confused over where the latest feel-good policy is coming from.

TEXT C:

On balance, it could be argued that the likelihood of the enterprise succeeding seems somewhat limited. While there are some grounds for optimism with regard to the technology actually functioning correctly, considerable doubts remain over the ability of the project to withstand the probable risks which may lie ahead.

CONFIDENTIAL

Pharmaceutical firm

For immediate release

Pharmacone totally rejects the allegation that its over-the-counter drugs are overpriced in developing countries. The prices charged for our drugs, which include painkillers and treatment for skin infections, are already 50% of Western prices.

Pharmacone is committed to improvements in health care worldwide as our recently set up aid programmes in India and Pakistan demonstrate. These programmes focus on health education in remote rural areas.

At a time when unfounded rumours about Pharmacone are circulating we want to put the record straight and ensure that all our customers wherever they are in the world get the truth.

Film company

For immediate release

Possum Pictures Films wishes to make it clear that no dogs were hurt in the making of The Hounds of Hell.

Contrary to rumours, all the dogs used in the film were well looked after, are fit and well, and looking forward to the sequel, The Hounds of Hell II.

The fight scenes in question were made using computer generated imagery and the rumours circulating are testament to the high production values of The Hounds of Hell.

Possum Films strongly supports animal welfare and donated 5% of its profits from the film to animal charities.
