

Montmartre - one of the famous districts of Paris.
Here live famous artists, actors, musicians.

Moulin Rouge

The famous red mill, where the late nineteenth century to the present day champagne flows like water, young ladies dancing the cancan.

Sacre-Coeur

Sacre - Coeur - the largest Catholic cathedral.
Sacre - Coeur and Montmartre - Paris roof

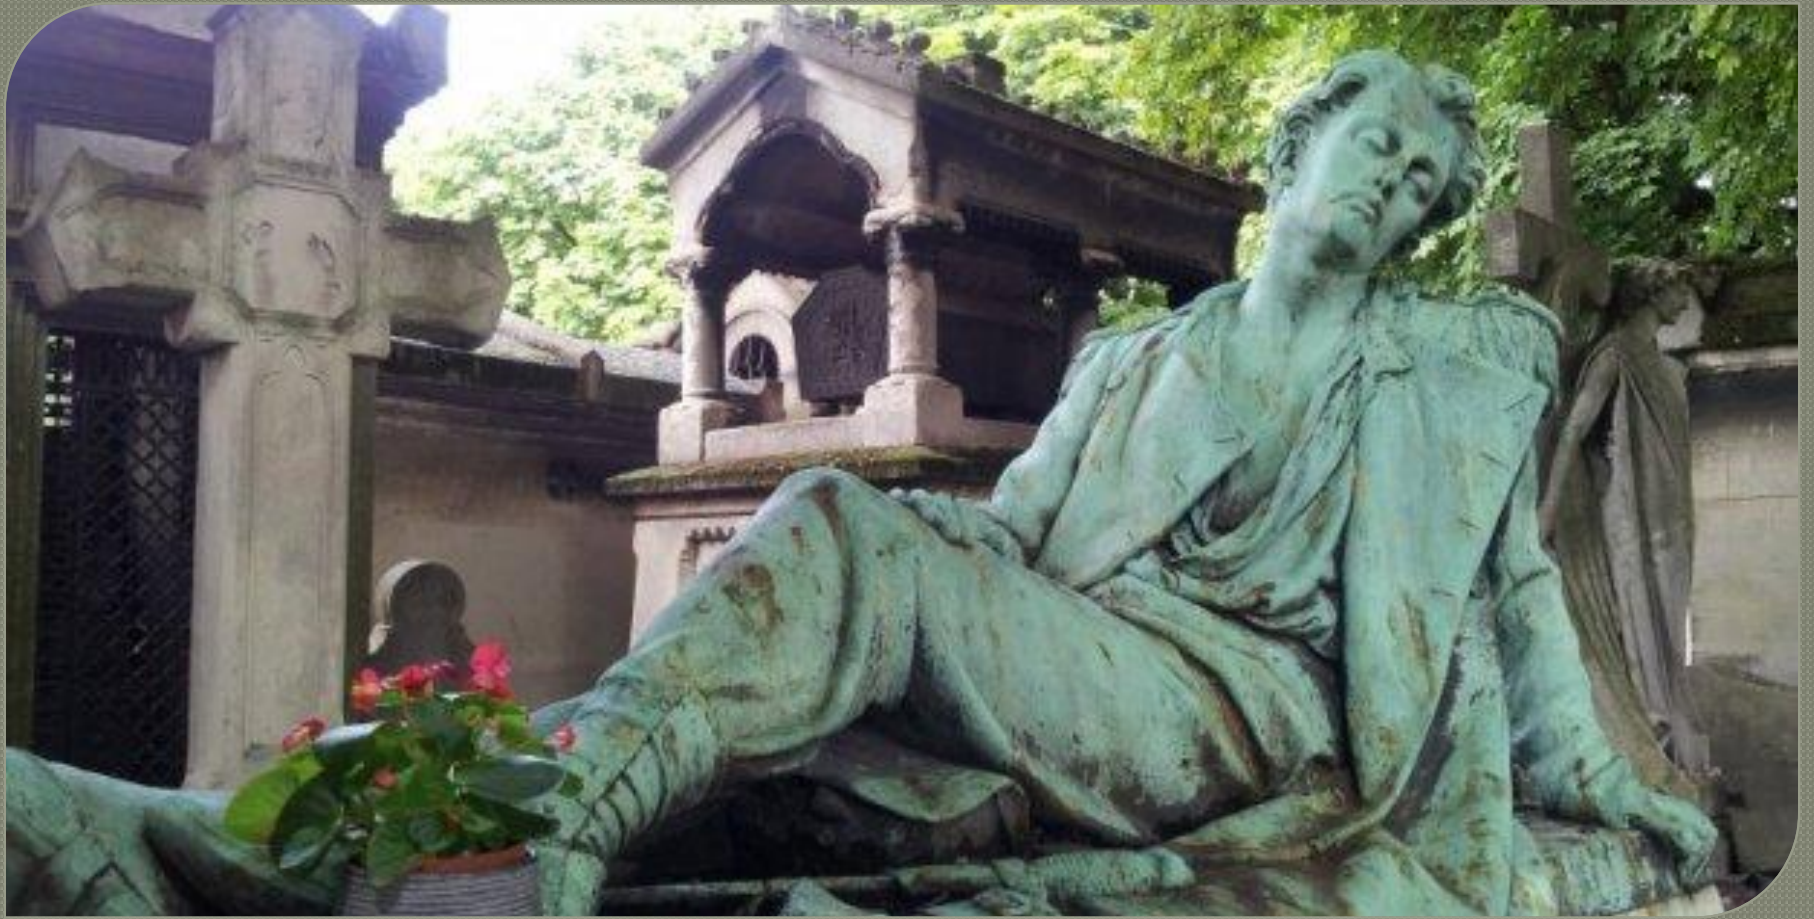

love Wall

"I love you" more than two hundred languages. There was this interesting place in Montmartre thanks to artists Frédéric Baron and Claire Kito..

"Man, passing through the wall."

At Montmartre living French writer Marcel Aymé. After the death of his friend Jean Marais made monument, in tune with the name of one of the works of Marcel Ayme "Man, passing through the wall."

Montmartre cemetery is considered one of the most remarkable places in Paris.

Monument Dalida

On the square stands a bust of Dalida, and every tourist is committed to touch Delilah "chest" - such as it brings good luck in love.