RESPECT THE AUDIENCE

Treat people the way you like to have them treat you.

II. GET PERSONAL

Good communicators establish a personal connection by focusing on how their message may impact the other person.

"To listen well is as powerful a means of communication and influence as to talk well."

— John Marshall

LISTEN

Knowing how to actively listen and making every effort to understand what they're telling you

IV. ASK QUESTIONS

DON'TS

“Do you know what I mean?”

“Get what I’m saying?”

DOS

“Am I explaining this well?”

SUM-UP

I've described 4 things that good communicators always do in relation to spoken conversation, but they can be applied to written communication as well.

The slide is decorated with various hand-drawn illustrations of fruits and vegetables. At the top left is a blueberry cluster. Next to it is a sliced orange. To the right is a green cucumber. Further right is a slice of watermelon. On the far right is a lime. In the middle left is a lemon. Below the lemon is a green leaf. At the bottom left is a strawberry. Next to it is a banana. In the bottom center is a green leaf. To its right is a lime. At the bottom right is an orange. Above the orange is a cherry. To the left of the cherry is a small blueberry cluster. Above the cherry is a sliced lemon. To the right of the cherry is a green leaf.

Thanks!

At the end,
