Read the article. Do you think the son was addicted to playing video games? Find evidence for your opinion.

According to a Chinese blog, a man has hired gamers to find his son in an online game and kill his character.

The man was unhappy with his son for not finding a job and was also worried about the amount of time the 23-year-old spent playing games online. So he found some other gamers who were particularly good at online combat games and paid them to kill his son's character. His son became aware of the situation when people kept attacking him. He was so curious about it that he asked one of his attackers to explain.

Apparently, the son was shocked at the answer, but he was not particularly angry with his father. After all, people who play online combat games are used to being killed!

We are probably all familiar with stories of video game addiction. However, many experts are not sure that it is a real condition. They point out that spending a lot of time doing something is not the same as being addicted to it. It only becomes an addiction when it is harmful to family life, friendships or work.

LEARN THIS! Adjective + preposition

Many adjectives are followed by certain prepositions:
in, at, of, with, etc.

to be obsessed with / successful in / sensitive to something

You need to learn these adjective + preposition combinations as they do not follow any rules. A good dictionary will tell you which preposition to use with which adjective.

LOOK OUT!

Some adjectives can be followed by more than one preposition with no difference in use or meaning.

to be annoyed at / with somebody or something

But with some adjectives, the preposition changes depending on the type or meaning of the word which follows.

to be unhappy with somebody / about something similar /'sɪmələ(r)/ adj similar (to sth/sb); similar (in sth)

like sth/sb but not exactly the same: My phone is similar to my brother's. • Our houses are very similar in size.

5 Circle the correct prepositions to go with these adjectives.
Use a dictionary to help you.

1 dissatisfied in / with

2 responsible for / in

3 obsessed of / with

4 sensitive for / to

5 pleased to / with

6 successful in / to

Circle the correct prepositions.

1 Его глаза очень чувствительны к яркому свету.

2 Ты в предвкушении своего отдыха?

3 Она была не очень довольна ее подарком.

4 Не волнуйся, никто не злится на тебя.

5 Я хочу 90%, но буду удовлетворен и 75%.

6 Кто ответственен за весь этот бардак?

7 Я не знаком с этой частью города, поэтому здесь легко заблудиться.

8 Если ты был бы недоволен своим гостиничным номером, то тебе следовало бы пожаловаться.

What would you advise people with the same addiction to do?

A teenager in the UK, Danny Bowman, became addicted to 'selfies' and spent up to ten hours a day taking around 200 photos of himself with his phone. This was a true case of addiction: it was harmful to his education and his friendships and responsible for several health problems. Experts are aware of the condition and say it is becoming more and more common. Danny first posted selfies on Facebook when he was fifteen and soon became obsessed with reading his friends' comments. Although he was pleased with many of the things his friends wrote, he was also very sensitive to criticism. Before long, he was feeling very dissatisfied with his appearance. He took more and more photos of himself. His parents became very worried about his behaviour. Because they were both mental health nurses, they were familiar with addictions. They knew that Danny needed help. Now, after months of hospital treatment, Danny has been successful in beating his addiction. But it's a growing problem, with many other cases similar to Danny's.
