

Ammar dahouk
Group2011a

Independence Day Of Lebanon

- ◊ Date And Name
- ◊ History Of Independence
- ◊ Traditions {Celebrations , dresses, etc..}
- ◊ Attitude Of Youth Towards The Independence

Date And Name

November 22nd in 1943 came to be Independence and celebrated in the remembrance of the liberation from the French Mandate which was exercised over Lebanese soil for over 23 years.

History of independence

After national and international pressure, General Georges Catroux, a delegate general proclaimed in the name of his government the Lebanese independence on November 26, 1941.

On November 8 1943 and after electing the president Bechara EL Khoury and appointing the prime minister the chamber of deputies amended the Lebanese constitutions, which abolished the articles referring to the mandate and achieving independence.

Celebration Of The Independence Day

Hundreds of Lebanese citizens marched joyfully through Beirut ,to celebrate their country's Independence Day and it is celebrated with a military parade attended by top officials on Beirut's sea. And a lot of people that lives outside Lebanon they come to their country to celebrate this day with the Lebanese people.

Lebanese Independence Day Food

Lebanese Herb Salad, lemon and herb salad
originating in Lebanon.

Tabbouleh

Baked Lebanese Lamb
Meatballs. ...

Tacos

Falafel

Attitude Of Youth

During the independence day students create festivals and create campaigns by distributing every Lebanese citizen a Lebanese flag
Furthermore students make parties which a lot of people participate in it to dance and express there joy.

Conclusion

In 1945, Lebanon became a founding member of the Arab League (22 March) and a founding member of the United Nations. On 31 December 1946, French troops withdrew completely from Lebanon. And Lebanon became an independent country

