USED TO - BE USED TO - GET USED TO

Used to + V(base)

Used when we talk about something we did regularly in the past, but do not do it now.

He used to play football before the accident.
I used to live in London.

Be used to + V-ing/noun/pronoun

Used when we say that we are accustomed to something or something is normal for us, not strange or new.

Jenny is used to driving on the left.
I'm not used to listening to loud music.

Get used to + V-ing/noun/pronoun

Used to say that something is in the process of becoming normal or common.

Ski instructors get used to cold weather.
Cindy has to get used to driving on the left.

- Is it always bad to have guilty pleasures?
- Do we have the same phenomenon in Russia? (if not then why?)
- Why do you think people are ashamed of some of their harmless habits (preferences)?
- Shall we hide(abandon) our interests if the others don't share them?

Did you know..?

Different nations have some useful habits we could borrow.

Try and guess!

TRUE or FALSE?

- The French love cheese, butter, cream, and bread. Yet, obesity levels here are among the lowest in Europe.

Fatty foods are eaten regularly, in small portions. They also spend more time on dining. They also spend more time on dining. Eating slowly prevents gorging because the stomach is allowed to feel full.
