- FACTS ABOUT VSU

VSU is one of the largest classical universities in Russia. Founded in 1918, it became the first educational institution in the city.

University is based in the centre of city, home to over 120,000 students and one of Russia's liveliest and most welcoming cities

The university comprises 18 faculties, 16 research laboratories, 10 research and development centres and a university library which houses more than 3 000 000 books, periodicals and manuscripts.

HISTORY

In 1802 following a decree of Russian Emperor Alexander I Yuriev (Derpt) University in Estonia was established. The German occupation of Estonia during the First World War necessitated the relocation of Yuriev university to Central Russia and the City of Voronezh was chosen as a suitable location.

Every year VSU grew with new departments and faculties, the number of students grew.

In 1930, the institution was reorganized: the medical faculty was separated into an independent institute, in 1931 the pedagogical faculty also became a separate educational institution (today it is VSPU).

In the 1930s and 40s, new humanities faculties were opened, university museums appeared.

By June 1941, the university had 6 faculties, 40 departments, 4 museums, a library, as well as its own publishing house and printing house. More than 30 professors worked here, more than 2.5 thousand students studied. The Great Patriotic War rudely interfered with academic life.

VSU DURING AND AFTER THE WAR

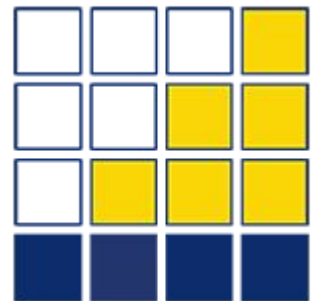

In 1942, VSU was evacuated to Yelabuga. In a small Tatar town, all faculties functioned and even research was conducted. In total, Voronezh State University has been in this city for a little more than a year.

almost all students and more than 60 teachers went to the front
