

The background of the slide features a series of stylized, light blue human figures holding hands in a circle. The figures are composed of simple geometric shapes, giving them a 3D, blocky appearance. They are set against a solid blue background. The overall theme suggests community, support, and shared experience.

Fading Away: Weight Loss & Shifts in Identity

What do we mean by identity?

- Personality:
 - The complex of all the attributes--behavioral, temperamental, emotional and mental--that characterize a unique individual
- Identity: How I think about and define myself
 - Descriptive (internal, physical attributes)
 - Social roles
 - Complex schemas
- What are some different types of identities we might hold?

Effects from Reactions of Others

- Physical characteristics influence the way others treat us and thereby mold our views of the world—our “personalities” and “identities”
- We hold stereotypes about personalities associated with physical characteristics

Do Looks Reveal Personality?

Looks Revealing Personality is Not Supported by Most Research

i.e.: Three body types:

Mesomorphs muscular, large-boned athletes

■ Endomorphs

roly-poly,
good-natured,
types

■ Ectomorphs

slender, bookworm types

Research on weight loss & identity

- Majority of research has focused on physical health outcomes
- Mental health issues have been mostly ignored
- Attention to identity
 - Clinically based (e.g., case studies)
 - Dissertation research

“I don’t feel like myself anymore!”

- Erosion of identity
 - Relational disturbance
 - Unfamiliar territory
 - Incongruity

“Sometimes I felt like I was going through a period of mourning. There was this feeling that I had lost something, but I couldn’t put my finger on what it was that I had lost.”

Obstacles to integrating new identities

- Social pressure
- Lack of belongingness
- Need for stability
- Coat rack effect
- Unrealized expectations
