The City of London: Video UK - transcript

Mark: This is the River Thames. It's about 200 kilometres long, and it's the second longest river in Great Britain. It flows through London, and it's the part of the river that most tourists see.

Ali: How's it been to the Thames since it's been there for so long?

The Romans built a settlement on the River Thames, and over the centuries it grew into the City of London, with a huge port. When that port became the world's largest, goods were brought in by water.

Ali: In the 1970s, most of the docks had closed and the area became a wasteland.

A lot of houses have been founded in the area. It's called Docklands.

The old warehouses are now attractive apartments, there are new office buildings, shopping centres and leisure facilities. The people enjoy being and working by the river.

Please also enjoy being on the water! This is a highlight of the Thames.

Mark: Hi, Helen.

Helen: Hi, Mark, well, it's nice.

Mark: Thank you. We will do the rest of it.

Helen: I'm not going to be in the park, and it's a great place to have a picnic.

Mark: I'm not sure if it's not a picnic.

Helen: In the summer, it's a beautiful view in the park. It's a lot.

Mark: Can you give me a view?

Helen: Please. Please see. It's in the park. The park.
