Little trip guidance Through the city Dnipro

Introduction

- Hello! Today we're going to look at several interesting places in Dnipro that is worth to visit, and maybe we'll do that in the near future, who knows. And for that, in this presentation i'm going to show some of these places, and show you directions. It's sort of a trip guide, about the places themselves you should find out by yourselves, you may also hire a guide if you want to.
- And in addition, here's some stuff you probably would like to know, if it's first time visiting Dnipro and for bit of clarification.

Cool looking yellowing tree I took on my way back to dorm :)

Just to clarify

- If you want to visit some cafeteria or a place to eat - look around the Avenue Dmytra Yavornyts'koho (you'll face it if you come outside of the 4th building) and even neighbor streets, there's a bunch of those.
- If you want to find trash bin to throw really quick - fear not, they placed nearly on every crossroad you can find, and not only there.
- For the public transport, the places that i'm going to show you can be reached by a single Tram no.1, and, since it's pretty expensive if you want to look at entire city – 4 hryvnias for a single ride! So you want to take a one day ticket for a price of two and a half rides – 10, because you're going to use trams a lot, if you want to visit everything in a single day.

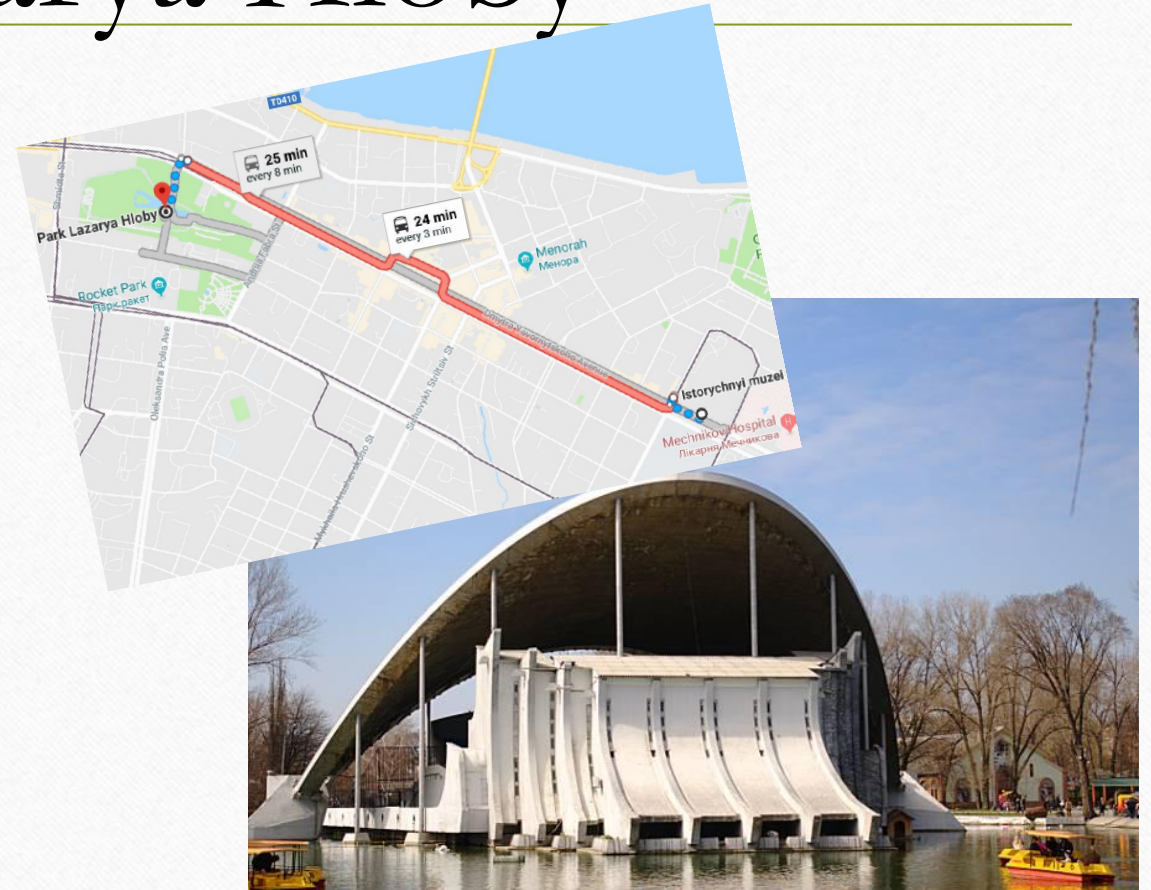

National Museum of Dmytra Yavornyts'koho

We'll start from the closest one. That is the National Museum of Dmytra Yavornyts'koho. To get there you should exit the 4th building of the University and cross the road, choose either of sides, let's say, from the right side. You should cross the road twice, then go left and there it is. Yes, it's placed right on the other side of the avenue! Pretty simple.

Park Lazarya Hloby

Our next place will be Lazarya Hloby park, this time we'll finally take our first ride on a tram. When you'll come out of the National Museum you should face the university, that is on the other side of the road. Take your step to the right and walk a bit right after you reach the crossroad, you should be in a tram stop. There's only one tram going through this stop, so take it when you see one. Drive all the way through Stolyarova St. You should see a statue to your left side and pretty big space. When you come out of the tram, face it and cross the road behind it. And you're at the park!

Thanks for your attention, I hope you've learned something useful!

More importantly – have fun and be safe!
