

Plus and minus school

A large, multi-story red brick building with a central bay window and a blue double door, likely a school. The building has several dormer windows on the roof and a set of stone steps leading to the entrance. A blue sign on the right side of the building reads "METAMORPHOSIS IN A MUFF".

Plus schools that provide free education

- The school teaches friendship and security in emergency situations.

Spend time learning that I do not come in handy in the future.

A photograph of a classroom. In the foreground, the backs of two young boys in red shirts are visible as they raise their hands. In the background, a female teacher in a grey dress is smiling and also has her hand raised. The classroom is filled with educational materials, including a whiteboard, a clock, and various posters on the walls.

The downside is that teachers do not conduct electives for the students because they don't want to spend your time.

Thanks for watching
