

A cartoon illustration of Tom the cat and Jerry the mouse. Tom is on the left, grey with white paws and chest, leaning forward with a wide, toothy grin and his right arm extended towards Jerry. Jerry is on the right, a small brown mouse with a large pink nose, looking up at Tom with a slightly mischievous expression.

Cartoon «Tom and Jerry»

Выполнили ученицы 7 класса
«Б» Ахметова Элина,
Гуровская Вероника

- This cartoon was released on March 20, 1940.
- The genre of this cartoon is a short cartoon.
- This cartoon is produced by Fred Quimby, and the creators are William Hanna and Joseph Barbera.

Characters

- In this cartoon, the main characters are: a little mouse named Jerry , and a cat named Tom.

Why did we choose this cartoon?

We chose this cartoon because this cartoon is very fun , positive and it fills us with different positive emotions. We are very interested to see how the cat tries to catch the mouse , and the mouse easily avoids it.

