- 1 Few people have blood type B negative (about 5%), and even fewer have AB negative, which is the rarest тип крови. The most common тип крови is O positive. Approximately 36% of people have this тип крови.
- 2 ногти (руки) grow at an average of about 36 millimetres a year, which is 3 millimetres in a month. That's much faster than ногти (ноги) which grow about four times more slowly – about 0.75 millimetres a month.
- 3 When people sing their national anthem, they often hold the left side of their грудь, thinking that they are placing their рука over their сердце. But in fact our сердце is near the centre of our грудь, just a little to the left.
- 4 The average length of the small кишечник in adults is seven metres. The average length of the large кишечник is one and a half metres, so that's eight and a half metres in total.
- 5 As adults, we have 206 кости in our bodies, but we start life with many more. We are born with nearly 300 кости but as we grow, some of them join together, leaving us with 206.
- 6 The blonder our hair, the more hairs we have on our череп. Fair-haired people have on average 150,000 hairs, brown-haired people have 110,000, and black-haired people about 100,000. People with ginger hair have got the fewest: about 90,000 волосы.

- 7 Most people don't think of their кожа as an organ, like their сердце, почка, желудок и печень. But that's what it is. And it's the largest organ, by surface area and weight. The average мозг weighs 1.3 kg and is the third largest organ in our body. The печень is also very large and weighs even more: on average 1.6 kg. But the surface area of кожа on an average adult is between 1.5 and 2 m², and it weighs on average 10.8 kg.
- 8 The thickness of our кожа varies from about 0.5 mm on our веки to 4 mm or more on the soles of our ступни and on the ладони of your руки. But on average it is 2–3 mm thick.
- 9 Different experts have different opinions. Some say it is the masseter мышца in the челюсть which helps us chew our food. Others say it is the мышцы in our thighs, which allow us to run. Other experts believe it is the gluteus maximus in our bottom and lower back, which holds our bodies upright. What is certain is that the largest muscle is the Ягодичная мышца but it is impossible to say which is the strongest because they do such different things.
